‘Commando Operations’ & raids on the Channel Islands

On the evening of Wednesday 14th November, Deputy Paul le Pelley will deliver a talk on Commando operations in the Channel Islands.

Deputy Paul le Pelley, Vice President of the Channel Islands Occupation Society, will give a talk on the formation of the British Commando forces in 1940 and on the use of small raiding parties.

It will centre on the raids actually carried out, and proposed to be carried out, in the Channel Islands – mainly on Guernsey and Sark.

Also presented will be details of some of the larger operations carried out by Combined Operations.

This talk is in the Friends of the Priaulx Library series and commences at 7 p.m. in the Frossard Theatre, Candie Gardens.

Admission is by ticket and these can now be obtained at the Priaulx Library. Free for Members and £5 for non-Members.
